EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

This Bill seeks to make provision for certain matters relating to the Singapore Institute of Technology (referred to as the university company) and to make a consequential amendment to the Private Education Act (Cap. 247A).

The provisions of the Bill are intended —

- (a) to grant to the university company, which was established as a company limited by guarantee incorporated under the Companies Act (Cap. 50) on 15th September 2009, the right to confer and award degrees, diplomas and certificates, including honorary degrees and other distinctions;

- (b) to facilitate the provision of Government funds to the university company and ensure accountability for the use of such public funds through an accountability framework; and
- (c) to empower the Government to influence the strategic development of the university company and exercise certain controls over the management of the university company in the public interest.

Clause 1 relates to the short title and commencement.

Clause 2 defines certain terms as used in the Bill.

Clause 3 sets out the function of the university company, which includes the conferring and awarding of degrees, diplomas and certificates. The Singapore Institute of Technology, whose main object is to provide industry-focused undergraduate education in Singapore, will thus have the same status as the 4 existing autonomous universities in Singapore, namely, the National University of Singapore, Nanyang Technological University, Singapore Management University, and Singapore University of Technology and Design.

Clause 4 provides for the framework under which the university company is accountable to the Minister and under which the performance of the university company is evaluated. The clause also requires the university company to participate in the evaluation of its activities by an external review panel commissioned by the Minister.

Clause 5 empowers the Minister, in consultation with the university company, to establish policies on higher education in Singapore and requires the university company to implement such policies if the Minister directs it to do so.

Clause 6 provides for the appointment, removal and replacement of the trustees of the university company by the Minister.

Clause 7 sets out the matters which require the prior written consent of the Minister, and provides that any act done or agreement made without such consent is without effect and unenforceable at law.

Clause 8 makes provision for Parliament to provide funding for the university company and requires that the moneys given may only be applied or expended by the university company for such of its objects provided by its constituent documents as the Minister may allow.

Clause 9 permits the Minister or a person authorised by him to have access to the financial records of the university company and to require any person in possession of information to provide him with the information. The clause also requires the university company to make a summary of its financial statements available to the public.

Clause 10 clarifies that the Societies Act (Cap. 311) applies to any student body constituted pursuant to the provisions of the constituent documents of the university company unless otherwise exempted by the Minister responsible for societies. This will provide accountability for the funds of the students' union and its constituent bodies.

Clause 11 provides that the Bill will prevail over the constituent documents of the university company and any regulation made pursuant to the constituent documents, and makes clear that the university company is bound to comply with any other written law that would apply to it.

Clause 12 amends section 72(i) of the Private Education Act to provide that that Act will not apply to the Singapore Institute of Technology.

EXPENDITURE OF PUBLIC MONEY

This Bill will involve the Government in extra financial expenditure, the exact amount of which cannot at present be ascertained.
