

Ms Gan Siow Huang is the Minister of State for Education and Manpower. She is also the Member of Parliament for Marymount Single Member Constituency.

Prior to joining politics, she worked in the Republic of Singapore Air Force and was the first female Brigadier General in the Singapore Armed Forces. She was also Deputy CEO of NTUC's Employment and Employability Institute.

She graduated from London School of Economics and Political Science with a Bachelor of Science (Economics) degree in 1996. She attained Master in Business Administration from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 2010.

She is a volunteer with Girl Guides Singapore. She is married with three children.